

RATE Issues - Winter 2018, issue no. 2, volume 22

ISSN 1844-6159

In this issue:

Should Native English-Speaking Teachers Be Culturally Responsive in English as a Lingua Franca (ELF) Contexts? Examining the Needs of ELF Learners, by Khalid Al Hariri

MacArthur-Bates Communicative Development Inventories. A possible Means of Lexical Longitudinal Assessment of Very Young EFL learners, by Cristina Alexandrescu

On Teaching Literature. A General Perspective, by Liliana Bahnă

Bringing Reading to Life. Tips for Vitalizing Reading in Primary School, by Ligia-Daniela Botiza

Mothering and Daughterhood in Women's Experimental Theatre. A Case Study, by Andra Fermeșanu

The Importance of Human Sources of Knowledge in the Cambridge English Exam Preparation. Different Generations, Distinct Levels of Insight, by Claudia Morar

Why Cooperative Learning? Building Teams that Learn Together Using the Forming – Storming – Norming – Performing Model, by Irina Prodan

Potentials of Voicespace for EFL/ESP Teaching. A Real Experience from an Indonesian Teacher, by Anisa Putri Cahyani